This long term plan and progression map fully aligns with the PSHE Association’s Programme of Study for PSHE education, setting out learning opportunities three core themes: Health and Wellbeing, Relationships, and Living in the Wider World. In particular, the PSHE Association’s ‘Thematic Model’ to building a PSHE curriculum has been utilised. The progression map has built in developmental progression by revisiting themes year on year, building on and extending prior learning.

Online safety in our Star primary schools is chiefly taught via computing, with the first lesson of every computing unit dedicated to online safety. Correspondingly, the progression in online safety knowledge, skills and understanding is located within the computing progression map, and fully aligns with guidance issued by the National Online Safety organisation. The PSHE long term plan contains half term units entitled ‘Online Safety - review’ in Years 3 - 6. This is because the PSHE ‘Thematic Model’ contains discrete online safety units, whereas Star online safety coverage is thus found within computing lessons. These year groups, for these half terms, are therefore recommended to use this additional curriculum space to revisit online safety themes that are relevant to their setting and context, referring to the computing progression map and medium term plans accordingly.

Star will issue Trust standardised lessons and resources for a small number of lessons that address sensitive content. Objectives that are covered by these Trust lesson plans are set out in red below. These are statutory. The PSHE Association objective ‘Recognise that they share a responsibility for keeping themselves and others safe, when to say, ‘yes’, ‘no’, ‘I’ll ask’ and ‘I’ll tell’ will also be covered by the Trust standardised lessons and resources. When this is commissioned, it will be released via the Trust computing scheme of work - further details will follow. Other statutory PSHE content, as cited in the statutory guidance ‘Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education \(RSE\) and Health Education’, is indicated in this progression map with purple text - this statutory content MUST be taught.
